BOARD OF INDIAN COMMISSIONERS.

Upon the recommendation of President Grant, Congress enacted a law, April 10, 1869, providing for the appointment of a board of ten citizens, to cooperate with the Administration in the management of Indian affairs. The Board was organized in May, 1869, and has since been in active service. It is authorized to inspect the records of the Indian Office, to inspect Indian agencies, to be present at the payment of annuities, at councils with the Indians, and at the purchase of goods for the Indians. While its authority is only advisory, it has no doubt been a restraining influence against corruption and maladministration.

George Catlin Indian gallery in National Museum, with memoir and statistics; by Thomas Donaldson. 939 pages, illus. maps, facimiles. (In National Museum Report, 1885.) Cloth, $1.35. SI 3.1: 885

The author of the Catlin collection was a great admirer of the Indians and spent 8 years, from 1832 to 1840, traveling among the various tribes in the West and recording with brush and pen their fast-disappearing characteristics. He exhibited his collection of over 500 pictures, with various Indian costumes and accountermments, in the various cities of the United States and Europe, attracting a great deal of attention. He also wrote several books of travel among the Indians and one of his travels in Europe, which had a great vogue in their time. Mr. Catlin tried to get the United States Government to take his collection and give it a permanent housing, but it was some time after his death before it was rescued from obscurity in a storehouse in Philadelphia and placed in the National Museum at Washington. Mr. Donaldson gives a most interesting account of its numerous vicissitudes and final restoration.

KICKAPOO INDIANS.

Affairs of Mexican Kickapoo Indians, hearings, Feb. 8 to [Dec. 7, 1907, with appendix]. 3 vols., 2309 pages. (60th Cong., 1st sess., S. Doc. 215, 3 pts.) Vol. 1, buckram, $1.00; vol. 2, paper, 80c, buckram, $1.00; vol. 3, paper, 45c.

Hearings relating to bill to fulfill treaty stipulations of treaty of June 28, 1862, and other treaty agreements with Kickapoo Indians. 1908. 36 pages. (60th Cong., 1st sess., S. Doc. 350.) Paper, 5c.

Report from Committee on Indian Affairs under S. R. 261, 59th Congress, directing committee to investigate affairs of Mexican Kickapoo Indians. 1907. 12 pages. (60th Cong., 1st sess., S. Rept. 5.) Paper, 5c.

The subcommittee (Senators Teller, Curtis, and La Follette) found a very reprehensible state of affairs as to the disposition of the lands of the Kickapoos. A single statement from the report may be quoted: "We find that the persons whom we have designated as belonging to the Chapman, Grimes, and Conine people, and all those claiming under them, secured their said pretended title by acts of violence, corruption, fraud, intimidation, and debauchery, and some by committing the crime of forgery, and that they have no valid titles, but the deeds they hold are such a cloud upon the title that it is the duty of the Government to at once bring action to set the same aside."

KIOWA, COMANCHE, AND APACHE RESERVATION. Hearing before Committee on Indian Affairs of Senate, Jan. 19 and 28, 1905 [on bill to open for settlement 505,000 acres of land in Kiowa, Comanche, and Apache Reservation, Okla.]. 28 pages. Paper, 5c. Y 4. In 2: K 62

Indian land cessions in United States; by C. C. Royce. (In 18th Ethnology Report, 1897, pt. 2, pages 521 to 997, 67 maps, large 8°.) Cloth, $2.60. SI 2.1: 897<sup>a</sup>

A most notable and valuable compilation, tracing the steps by which the vast patrimony of the aboriginal Americans has been taken from them by the white man. The schedule shows the number and location of each cession, from the organization of the Government to 1894, with descriptions of the tracts ceded, date of the treaty or law governing the transfer, names of the tribes concerned, and other historical data and references. Similar facts are given in relation to the reservations which have been made in behalf of the Indians. Sixty-seven maps in color illustrate graphically the descriptions in the text. The 118-page Introduction is a careful historical sketch of the varying policies of the English, French, and Spanish settlers and of the thirteen colonies and the United States in dealing with the Indians and their lands.

The Mayan tribes of Yucatan, Chipas, Guatemala, and western Honduras had reached at the time of the discovery of America the highest stage of native culture found in North America except possibly in political organization, in which the Aztecs excelled. The Spaniards found them living in cities of noble architecture, possessing a definitely organized government, a literature and history, and even a highly developed calendaric and chronologic system.

MESCAL, a new artificial paradise; by Havelock Ellis. (In Smithsonian Report, 1897, pages 537 to 548.) Paper, 75c; cloth, 95c.
SI 1.1: 897

Mescal, the product of a cactus grown in the Rio Grande Valley variously known as peyote, mescal bean, Japanese button, or Wak-we, is a powerful narcotic having physical effects upon the user similar to those of cocaine and hasheesh. The cactus grows in the form of a radish or parsnip, rounded at the top with an indented center. About an inch or more of the top is cut off and when dried in the sun the blossom becomes cottony in appearance. The effects of the indulgence last longer than those of alcohol and do not move the person under its influence to violence as does alcohol, but produce a great lassitude which saps the mental and physical vigor.

The Indian Office has made efforts to prevent its use by the Indians, and in May, 1909, an officer visited the source of supply, bought up the entire product on the market and destroyed it, at the same time obtaining agreements from wholesale dealers that they would no longer continue the traffic.

MOHONK INDIAN CONFERENCE. Proceedings of 3d to 19th conferences, 1885 to 1901. (In Board of Indian Commissioners Annual reports, 1885 to 1901.) I 20.5:

In the fall of 1883, Mr. Albert Keith Smiley, a member of the Board of Indian Commissioners since 1879, invited a number of gentlemen interested in the well-being of the Indians to meet at his summer hotel at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., for conference. This invitation has been renewed from year to year, and the meetings thus held, to which more than 200 eminent citizens are annually invited, have become widely known as the Mohonk Indian Conference or the Lake Mohonk Conference. The conference has no official standing or authority, but its moral influence is believed to have been great. The Board of Indian Commissioners are always members of the conference, and for the first 19 years of its existence, 1883-1901, the reports of its proceedings were published by the Government in the reports of the Board of Indian Commissioners.

No less than 106 stories were taken down in English, many quite long, and of eighteen of these the Tlingit text is printed with a word-for-word translation. Besides these legends the author secured speeches at a tobacco feast, speeches at the erection of a pole for the dead, and graphophone records of 103 songs, the words of which are here printed.

WHAT PUBLIC DOCUMENTS ARE AND HOW TO GET THEM

THE Government of the United States is the greatest of all publishers of scientific works. It employs thousands of scientists, who are engaged the year round in making researches and investigations in all branches of agriculture, in geology, in mining, in electricity, in chemistry, in astronomy, in engineering, in aviation, in preventive medicine, in forestry, in irrigation, and almost all other branches of scientific inquiry. The arts of war as well as those of peace are also actively cultivated. The greatest art of all, that of free government, is strenuously carried on by President, Cabinet, Senators, and Representatives.

The results of all these activities of the most comprehensive and effective organization ever known are constantly reduced to print and poured out in an incessant flood from the largest printing works in the world.

These publications of the Government Printing Office at Washington constitute the Public Documents of the United States.

The greater number of them are sold by the Superintendent of Documents, located in the Government Printing Office. The Government did not establish this sales office for purposes of profit, but as a public convenience. The prices charged cover only paper and printing, no charge being made for the services of the statesmen and scientists who are the authors of the astonishingly varied books, pamphlets, periodicals, and maps, and no commissions being allowed to anybody. The documents even have the freedom of the mails and are sent without cost.

The only condition is that payment be made in advance of shipment. The Superintendent of Documents is not authorized to supply free copies, and it is useless to ask him to do so.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. If currency is sent, it will be at sender's risk.

Postage stamps, coins defaced or worn smooth, foreign money, and uncertified checks will not be accepted.

No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in the United States, Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Samoa, or to Canada, Cuba, Mexico, or Shanghai. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged.
